BOY'S CORN CLUB.

Good Display Made by Lawrence County Boys.

Fine Addresses Were Delivered by Representatives from the Department of Agriculture.

Pursuant to previous announcement in the NEWS Dr. Fred Mutchler, who represents the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is stationed at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington, and Prof. J. J. Hooper and E. J. Kinney, of the Agricultural College, attended the show of the Boys Corn Club. They not only attended, but by their addresses on that occasion furnished much food for thought and gave great encouragement, not only to the boys, but to all sensible people who heard them. They spoke on Saturday, the last day of the School Fair, and they had a large and appreciative audience and were heard with profound attention. Dr. Mutchler spoke first, and it is safe to say that he delivered the best address ever made in the courthouse along the lines upon which he spoke. The doctor has several very attractive features as a public speaker. He has a clear, far-reaching voice, uses excellent English, and speaks in a way which captures and holds your undivided attention. Add to these qualities as a speaker a storehouse of practical knowledge—quite a different thing from mere learning and you have an equipment which makes Dr. Mutchler worth going miles to hear. The NEWS can notice only a few of the salient points of his admirable address. Among many things which pleased the audience was what the doctor said concerning the work of the county agricultural agent who will begin his labors here about January first. It will first go over the county and select several places for demonstration work, acquainting himself meanwhile with the character of our soil and the lay of the land. On the selected places he will raise certain crops, as best suited to the soil of those places. The owners of the farms will furnish the land, as they have always done, have broken, as they have always done, furnish the seed and the labor for cultivation, which they have also had to do before. All these things will be done under the direction of the county agent, a man chosen for his knowledge of the right way to raise the crops which are considered best for the soil. The agent will select a place as permanent headquarters, from which he will, for a short time go to visit the outlying stations, giving direction and advice as desired, then the farmers must come to him.

Dr. Mutchler wished it distinctly understood that these "stations" were not experiment, but demonstration, stations. The work on them was to demonstrate what could be done well and profitably in the selected ground—noting of the experiment nature about it. The whole time of the agent, for a whole year, was to be given to the farmers of the county, and it is safe to say that while the services of this man and the attention of the agricultural department was almost forced upon our people, while other counties were clamoring for this attention, that in 1915 our farmer will put in an early call for the same man or one like him.

Dr. Mutchler lamented the fact that while "alligation medial," cubo root, conic sections and integral calculus," or some other things equally as abstruse were forced upon our boys until they had the headache, they were not taught how to make the ground produce a living for its owner.

Dr. Mutchler said the term rural "community" was a misnomer. We had a rural population but not a rural community. Here is a distinction with the biggest sort of difference. A community works for the mutual interest of the whole body. This was well illustrated by the action of Warren county farmers who, by united action, bought acid phosphate fertilizer for $11 per ton which had cost them, buying singly $17 per ton. One trouble with our farmers, the doctor said, was that they bought at retail and sold at wholesale, whereas, he said, they should do just the reverse. Dr. Mutchler is not much of a theorist, as a theorist is usually understood. He is intensely practical, and one of his aims, the NEWS thinks, is to make farmers who hear him put into practice what he says. To this end he tells them things in a practical way, of what he and others have learned by putting into practice ideas that have been born careful study and intelligent experimentation.

The NEWS wishes it had more time and more space to devote to Dr. Mutchler's splendid address. Our thinking farmers who missed hearing it missed much that would have done them good.

Dr. Mutchler was followed by Prof. Hooper, a man who knows corn from the planted grain to the full ear about as well as any other man who ever appeared before a Louisa audience. He, too, is practical. He called the boys before him and pointed out to them, using the sample ears on the tables as object lessons, the marks by which corn should be judged: the length, diameter and shape of the ear, the roughness or smoothness, hardness and color of the grain, etc. His remarks were interesting and profitable to his hearers.

Prof. Kinney, who spoke of cattle, was next introduced by the chairman, Mr. H. C. Sullivan. The professor told of the way they raised cattle in various parts of Europe, using the stock best suited to the character of country. He spoke in a pleasing and interesting way.

The NEWS forgot to say at the proper place that what Dr. Mutchler told of the production and sale of strawberries, and how a $32,000 farm was made to pay after repeated failure on part of some of its owners, was surely worth listening to.

If the gentlemen who so delightfully entertained and instructed us last Saturday will come again we shall certainly extend to them the glad hand. And Dr. Mutchler is sure to come, and that right soon.

STUNG AGAIN.

Smooth Young Men Gather in Many Shelves Here and Elsewhere.

Several weeks ago a young man of good address and glib tongue canvassed Louisa for subscriptions to a publication of some kind, alleged to sell for 49 cents per year. He claimed he was working for a college scholarship and money to pay his way through the course. This story appealed to most of the people who listened to it and the young man raked in subscriptions by the score. Almost any one will gladly give up a half dollar to help put such a bright and energetic boy through school. But not one copy of the mythical publication has yet reached Louisa.

A few days ago in Indiana several young men who were working this same skin game were arrested. From reports in the newspapers it appears to be the same 49c. scheme that was worked here. Developments indicate that it is a deep laid fake that has been worked with great success all over the country. About a year ago Louisa was visited by the same sort of a bunch, but the plan was slightly different. This time the town was more thoroughly canvassed and with greater success. Strangers who come along with appealing tales should be turned down. There are plenty of worthy people at home who need the help we are able to give.

COUNTY SCHOOL FAIR

Held in Louisa Last Week was Quite a Success.

The first fair ever held by the public schools of Lawrence county was held in the courthouse on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 28, and 29. Despite almost universal predictions and forebodings the display was a very creditable one. In fact, such was the also, variety and quality of the exhibit that it elicited words of pleasure and surprise from nearly all who saw it, and the attendance was by no means small. Most of the articles displayed were in place in the court room shortly after noon, when the fair was formally opened. Words of encouragement and praise were spoken to the exhibitors by H. C. Sullivan, M. S. Burns, Rev. Mr. Plummer, Charles See and others. The formal proceedings closed with singing by all present. As has been said, the display made was a revelation to all present. The work was done, every bit of it, by public school children, some of it under the direction of the teachers, some of it without any suggestion or aid whatever. There were maps, drawings, all sorts of needlework, charts, woodwork and candy making. Some of the articles shown were, as was to be expected, crude in design and execution, but most of it was good, some exceptionally so. The fair as a whole showed the latest possibilities of Lawrence county's youth, needing only proper work to become accomplished facts.

If the NEWS is not mistaken Supt. Jay O'Daniel gave the county school fair its start in Lawrence. He was splendidly assisted by the first woman supervisor, Miss Emma Thompson, and her very able successor, Miss Elizabeth Lester. They received the able assistance of most of the teachers, and in spite of the hogsheads of very cold water which have been thrown on the idea of a school fair the results have been good.

The special attention of the NEWS was called to three or four articles shown at the fair. One was a beautiful piece of manuscript, the work of Miss Blanche Osborn, of Blaine high school, aged 13 years. It was a relief to the eye to look at the clear, finely written pages. Another was a landscape, in free-hand drawing, the work of a young girl who is the daughter of the Rev. Alonzo See, deceased. The girl had had no instruction whatever in drawing, but the work was done with a clearness and truthfulness to nature quite remarkable. Attention was also called to some specimens of wood carving and construction done. If the NEWS mistakes not, by a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Haws, of Walbridge. The work showed much talent and ingenuity.

If you want to see 41 specimens of the native woods of Lawrence county, neatly labeled and arranged, stop at Conley's store and see the work of Andrew McClure, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClure, who live near this city. The boy gathered the specimens on his father's farm and did the work of labeling and arranging. This unique exhibit was also shown at the school fair.

The names and work of all the exhibitors will be found elsewhere in this issue of the NEWS. It is possible that some exhibitor's name has been overlooked in compiling the list, and if such is the case the NEWS will cheerfully give the names of such if they are made known to the paper.

KENTUCKY OIL FIELDS.

Lawrence County Pool Shows Staying Qualities.

Several scattered strikes in smaller fields of Kentucky have aroused new interest in petroleum operations in districts where some atonement had been shown in field work. The territory embracing Lawrence and other northeastern Kentucky counties, as well as wild-cat centers of Western Kentucky, have shown favorable results lately.

The Lawrence county pool has furnished only light wells, but the staying qualities of these strikes make up for any smallness of yield. The district developments where made, has furnished several new wells in the "pumper" class, while advance operations have opened new prospects for the drill. In the Fallsburg district a new well has a capacity of ten barrels daily, being slightly ahead of the proven area. This district has been leased over pretty extensively and several new tests will be drilled.

Barren and Logan counties have been attracting the attention of the trade lately and are sure to be in on the winter campaign of test work. Late strikes show a fair production and arrangements have been made to plant several new rigs in both of these counties. Neither has developed a field of commercial importance, but the lining up of a new field is a slow and expensive proposition and it will require time to test the possibilities of these counties.

The leading fields of the State, including Wayne, Morgan and Wolfe, show the usual activity, without any strikes of more than ordinary capacity. Developments in these counties have been routine in nature, and with the exception of Morgan county, little work is being started outside the established limits of production. Of three new strikes in Wayne county none is outside the "pumper" class. Morgan county operations resulted in two new completions, the best one having a production of fifteen barrels daily. The first new completion in the old Campton pool of Wolfe county in several months has a yield of ten barrels daily.

Guy Atkinson came down from Paintsville, remaining over Sunday.

OUR COAL FIELDS.

Shipping Facilities Inadequate for Handling Output.

Some of the Biggest Undertakings in Railroad Extension to Begin Next Year.

WHITESBURG, KY., Nov. 28.—The year 1914 will see the beginning of some of the biggest undertakings attempted in railroad extensions in recent years in Eastern Kentucky. The main purpose of the recent trip of the coal magnates, John C. C. Mayo, Paintsville; Johnson N. Camden, Versailles; J. J. Johnson, Baltimore; J. W. M. Stewart, Ashtland; Clarence W. and George T. Watson, Palmout, W. Va.; J. H. Wheelright, Baltimore; C. Bascom, West Virginia, and several others, was to secure better shipping facilities for their output to all the principal markets of the whole country, North, South, East and West.

To do this it will be necessary to build a number of railroad lines, make extensions, increases, etc., which will necessitate a vast outlay of capital. The main connection is wanted with the cities and markets of the South Atlantic seaboard. The one line, the Chesapeake and Ohio's Big Sandy extension, is inadequate to haul immense tonnage, supplying the cities of the North and Northwest, and something must be done to facilitate the handling of the coal in that direction.

The solution to the problem is, first, the building of an extension of the Lexington and Eastern from its terminus at McRoberts about twenty-eight miles via Jenkins, and so down Elkhorn creek to Elkhorn city, connecting with the new line of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio (or the Seaboard air line, commonly called,) soon to be completed and put into operation, giving a direct outlet to the cities of the Southeast—the growing cities of the Atlantic seaboard—coal trade centers of note.

Second, the paralleling its entire distance of the Chesapeake and Ohio's Big Sandy road by the Baltimore and Ohio, a subject discussed by railroad people for some time, and which has been under advisement. To do this it will be necessary for the B. and O. people to bridge the Ohio river at Ashland at a considerable expense. It is understood that for months the B. and O. has been financing the building of a parallel line with the C. and O. in order to get a slice of the big coal tonnage going out from the great Elkhorn coal field around Jenkins, a branch of their road, the Sandy Valley and Elkhorn, already carrying the Consolidation Coal Company's output from their mines in and around the industrial city of C. and O. at Shelby Station, 30 miles.

The Baltimore and Ohio, as a result of their Shelby-Jenkins branch, would have to build about 100 miles of road, but considering the topography of the country this would mean a gigantic undertaking. At this time the B. and O. is preparing to start the construction of a 25-mile branch line from Hazard to Beaver Creek to parallel a new line of the C. and O., now practically complete, in order to get part of the large coal shipments soon to be coming out from the mammoth plant of the Elkhorn Coal Corporation and the Beaver Coal and Gas Company and the other concerns getting in readiness to begin coal shipments from Weekshury and Allen, new cities on Beaver creek. At least ten miles of steel has already been laid on the new Beaver branch of the C. and O., and the remainder of the work is being rushed with all possible speed.

The Lexington and Eastern extension from McRoberts via Jenkins and down Elkhorn City, would penetrate an immensely rich coal and timber section yet untouched. It was the purpose of railroad officials two years ago to extend the road into Elkhorn City, a strategic point of outlet for a vast rich coal district surrounding, both in Kentucky and Virginia, the survey having several times been made. This further extension of the L. and E. would only parallel the Sandy Valley and Elkhorn road entering Jenkins from Jenkins to Shelby Gap, a distance of six miles, the remainder of the route being through almost untouched fields of timber and extensive coal beds.—Louisville Post.

The Finch Club was entertained by Mrs. A. M. Hughes this week.

ORDERS HUGE COAL CARS.

The Norfolk & Western Railway Co. has ordered the construction at its Roanoke, Va., shops of 750 all-steel gondola cars of 100 tons capacity each. The first of this extra large type of coal-carrying car was built by the Norfolk & Western Railway some months ago as an experiment. It is said that the advantage of these large cars is that they enable locomotives to haul shorter trains, although the coal tonnage is the same as when more cars of less individual capacity are used. The trains are thus easier handled. These new cars, each of which has two six-wheeled trucks, will be placed in service between the mines on the Norfolk & Western Railway and tidewater at Lambert's Point, Va., and will be employed mainly in connection with shipments to be handled over the road's new pier there, which is now fully under construction.

LOUISA BAKING CO.

This company announces that it will begin the shipment of its product on Monday next, Dec. 8th. The machinery is in place and nothing remains except to "try it out." The company has no doubt of the success of the enterprise, and the people of Louisa are equally optimistic. Look out for Lobaco Bread.

AGAIN THE OPEN GRATE.

On Sunday last the 3 year old son of Dave York, of Saltpeper, was seriously burned by his clothing catching fire from an open grate. The child's stomach and abdomen were badly burned and doubts of its recovery are entertained. Dr. Wellman was called to attend the case.

FARMERS INSTITUTE

Will be Held in Louisa Next Wednesday and Thursday.

Neither discouraged nor deterred by small attendance and lack of interest on previous occasions of the kind Commissioner of Agriculture Newman has arranged for another Farmers Institute to be held in Louisa next Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 10-11.

The State Department of Agriculture will furnish two state lecturers on farm topics and a lady lecturer on household affairs. Lecturers from the Forestry Commission and Good Roads Department of the State Government will also be present as well as local speakers.

All are invited and urged to attend. Farm life in all its phases will be discussed. If you want to grow better crops in a more economical way, study your own interests and help develop the state.

The following lecturers will be here. The ladies are especially requested to come and hear Mrs. Gunn discuss household affairs: Mr. W. H. Clayton, Mr. J. E. Hite, Mr. M. Douglas, Mrs. M. F. Gunn, (Household Affairs.) Mr. Harry Price, and a Representative of Good Roads Department as well as local speakers.

A new era seems to have come in the history of agricultural development in Lawrence county, and the NEWS urges the people to respond to this call of Commissioner Newman by coming out and taking part in the meeting to be held next week. The young men are particularly urged to be present.

REV. S. D. BOGGS DEAD.

Danville, Ky., Nov. 28.—The Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Boggs, 68, died yesterday at the Danville hospital, where he underwent an operation on Wednesday. He had been in declining health several months. Dr. Boggs was born August 21, 1845, in Abbeville-co., South Carolina. He was a graduate of the University of Virginia. He came to Kentucky in 1874 and for six years was pastor of the Clintonville and Hopewell churches, near Lexington, and for twenty years was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Catlettsburg. By the unanimous and rising vote of the Synod of Kentucky he was called from this pastorate in Catlettsburg in 1907 to become superintendent of its evangelistic work, including the work in the Big Sandy Valley, to which he had already been giving all his leisure time for years. For the last two years his work has been confined exclusively to Transylvania and Ebenezer Presbyteries, stands to-day the lasting monument of his long and faithful service in the Matthew T. Scott Academy and Industrial School, located at Phelps, Ky., together with the flourishing churches, ten in number, and missions, of which seven will grow to be churches. The missions are in the center of the great mining regions of Eastern Kentucky.

For the better education of his children Dr. Boggs removed his family to Danville in 1911.

DIED NEAR FT. GAY.

Henry A. Portiss died near Fort Gay on Monday last and was buried in the Seo graveyard on the following day. He left a widow and one child. He died of tuberculosis. He was a brother-in-law of Mont See. Mr. Portiss was an Odd Fellow and was buried with the honors of that order. The Rev. Mr. Plummer, of this city, conducted the funeral service.

THE SICK.

The NEWS regrets to learn that the illness of Mr. Will Queen, who is suffering from typhoid fever, has assumed a very serious form. He has had a hemorrhage, and his friends are anxious concerning his condition. The condition of Judge O'Brien remains unchanged. He is very weak and is in bed most of the time.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Won by Louisa Who Defeated Strong Prestonsburg Eleven.

Local gridiron enthusiasts were given quite a treat on Thanksgiving day, when they saw the strong Prestonsburg team, touted as the would-be champions, go down in defeat before the star Louisa team, in a fast and interesting game. It was only in the first quarter that the Prestonsburg team showed sufficient form to warrant their followers in heralding them as the coming champions of the valley. In this period the visitors made first down twice, but thereafter were wholly on the defensive.

In the second, third and fourth quarters, by their team-work and handling of the forward pass the local boys showed themselves to be superior. Of the four forward passes tried by Louisa, three were completed with decided gains. Louisa made the only score of the game, by a touch-down, in the last part of the fourth quarter.

Louisa appeared to be more familiar with the modern game, as Prestonsburg clung to the antiquated close formations.

The Louisa back field played a star game throughout, and the line was all that could be desired. For Prestonsburg, W. Wells, Flannery, Mayo and White did the most brilliant work. This game brings the well deserved title, "Champions of the Big Sandy Valley" to Louisa.

The line-up is as follows:

Louisa	Position	Prestonsburg
O'Neal	L. E.	McMillan
A. Frazier	L. T.	Workman
Williamson
F. Frazier	L. G.	H. Wells
See	C.	Mann
Wellman	R. G.	Rankin

THE LAST CHANCE

To Get in on the Road Maintenance Prizes.

Reduction in the Distance to be Kept Up Will Give Impetus to the Contest.

With the consent of the persons who are giving the prizes for the maintenance of two miles of road as advertised in this paper and by hand bills, we are making this ONE MILE instead of two miles, hoping that a number of the farmers of this county will take advantage of this and give the split log drag a fair trial. Now is the time to drag a road while it is muddy. You will find that by dragging two or three times a month during the winter, when the roads are so muddy that you will practically eliminate the mud which from now on till summer will be terrible. If at least 15 are not entered in this contest by the 15 of December these prizes will be called off and you will have missed a chance at some $350 worth of prizes.

THE PRIZES.

The business and professional men of Louisa and community are offering the following prizes to the farmers or to any one who will put in condition ONE MILE of road in Lawrence county and maintain this one mile by using the SplitLog Drag as a means of maintenance.

1. An Old Hickory 2 horse wagon, with bed sprung seat complete, given by Mr. Augustus Snyder, of The Snyder Hardware Co., of Louisa. This prize is now on exhibition at The Snyder Hardware Company's place of business for inspection. Every one is familiar with the Old Hickory wagon it needs no further recommendation.

2. A runabout given by Mr. E. E. Shaanon, of the Louisa Furniture Co. This is a four wheel vehicle, for either one of two horses, wheels red, trimmed in black, frame red, body black, deep wide seat with high cushioned back both upright and longitudinal springs, making not only a very handsome vehicle but one that is strong and durable. It is made by the Queen City Carriage Co. This handsome prize is to be seen at Mr. Shaanon's place of business in Louisa.

3. Is one of Jno. B. Sanfords famous Kentucky Spring seat saddles, Kentucky riding bridle and blanket. This splendid prize is a special make for this contest, is given by the First National Bank of Louisa, and is now ready for inspection at this bank.

4. A disk harrow given by The Louisa National Bank. For full description see M. F. Conley at the above bank or Mr. Aug. Snyder, at The Snyder Hardware Co.'s place, Louisa.

5. A suit of clothes guaranteed to cost $20.00 given by Gartin and Blankenship, merchants of Louisa. To appreciate this prize you will have to call and see these gentlemen at their place of business in Louisa.

6. An overcoat to cost $15 given by Mr. W. L. Ferguson, Louisa's clothing man. You will also have to see Mr. Ferguson to know all about this prize.

7. Cash ten dollars given by Mr. R. L. Vinson, of the Louisa Produce Co. Mr. Vinson is figuring on handling more of your produce when you have used the split log drag.

8. A barrel of first grade flour and a 100 lb. bag of No. 6 sugar given by Dixon, Moore and Co., the wholesale people of Louisa. Call at their place and let Mr. Dixon tell you all about this prize.

9. Cash five dollars, given by Mr. W. D. Pierce, merchant and one who is interested in your county.

These prizes are all valuable and all are ones that are worth more than you will be out when the contest ends. To enter this contest send your name and address to The County Engineer stating the mile section you have selected that it may be entered in a book kept for the purpose. Mr. Geo. R. Vinson, Cashier of The First National Bank, Mr. M. F. Conley, Cashier of The Louisa National Bank, and a representative from the Department of Public Roads, Frankfort, will go over your roads between the first and thirty-first of March 1914, act as Judges and award prizes to the successful ones. All persons are eligible to compete except Assistants to The County Engineer, they will not be competitors. The time to begin is now. In working the six day labor there are some instances where it is impossible to get teams if you would take your team and help, you will have your road ready to use the drag by the time the six day labor is all in, and be thenceforth aheadward using your drag. You can get full information how to make, how to use, and when to use these drags by calling at either bank in Louisa or at the office of The County Engineer. You can make one of these drags in an hour or two without any cost. They are simple yet the most efficient device known for the keeping of a dirt road in condition and at no expense compared with the benefits. All you have to do to win one of these splendid prizes is to ditch one mile of your road and then use the drag after rains to keep it in shape. All things will be taken into consideration by the Judges such as grades, location, etc., all difficulties under which you labored to maintain your two miles. If you make changes to put read where it will be easier maintained and give better service to the traveling public generally this will be taken into the grading by the judges. This is the best opportunity you is all in, and he this much ahead of your county at the same time. All these parties who are giving so liberally to get the split log drag generally introduced in this county know that when you fully realize the efficiency and the cheapness of maintaining roads with this drag that our bad roads are ended. Some progressive up-to-date citizens of this county are going to win some fine prizes, will it be you. Come in look the prizes over, get full information and get busy.

The split log drag is being used by the following citizens of this county. Ask them as to its merits: Wm. Barnette, Madge, Ky.; James Shannon, Louisa, R. D.; Lige Gartin, Cordell; R. W. Vinson, Donthan; M. W. Chambers, Louisa, R. D.; L. E. Wallace, Louisa, R. D.; George Chapman, Potter; George McGuire, Potter, and many others, who were skeptical as to the efficiency of this simple device, but who now will tell you that it is the only thing to maintain a dirt road. Your crops are gathered and now as the rains begin is the time to use the drag and win a wagon, buggy, saddle, clothes, cash or something of value.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS.

We would all be millionaires if we were as much interested in our own business as we are in that of other people.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who wore a carved peach stone on his watch chain?

Every middle-aged woman knows that they don't make as good mirrors nowadays as they did when she was a girl.

The more relatives a man has the more he likes strangers.

Every now and then you see a girl with a ten-cent face who is wearing a ten-dollar hat.

I may be mistaken about the junk they are wearing around their necks these days, but it looks to me as if a girl can take the Battenberg scarf off the bedroom dresser and hang it over her coat collar and he right in style. Then she can pin two crocheted dollies on the cuffs of her coat and turn up her nose at the world.

Nothing ever goes to waste in this world. They are using the old-fashioned wooden pie plates for hutches on women's winter coats.

When a girl is sloppy she is hopeless. If her shoes are run over at the heels you'll find that her hair is straggling down her neck and her hat looks as though the cat had used it for a bed.

A woman whose eyes are so weak that she can't read without glasses can look at another woman on the street and tell whether the other woman's union suit is made of cotton or mixed cotton and silk.

The reason a girl doesn't like to wear a skirt that is too tight across the hips is because a fish gets so tired of swimming that it likes to get into a net.

The old-fashioned woman who used to drain the frying pans into a jar and used the grease over and over again for months now has a daughter who fries stuff with butter that costs 50 cents a pound and kicks about the High Coat of Living.—Enquirer.

THE COUNTRY SCHOOL AS A COMMUNITY BUILDING.

(by H. W. Foght.)

The present day rural school is striving to fit itself into the needs of the community where it is found. The school of the open country which falls to root itself to the soil is no longer worth while. The school must be a leader in every day agricultural life or it will be stamped a failure. One of the many schools which is doing a real work for country uplift is found in western Charles Mix county, South Dakota. The school is 20 miles from the nearest railroad station, and has been doing a remarkable work for the community for more than 20 years. It was established as a postoffice which took its name "Academy" from the school itself. The school is organized on the academy of high school plan and is strong enough to give the people of the western section of the new State all the education they really need for successful farm life.

The founder of the school, Rev. L. E. Canfield, has been seen enough to understand that the country districts ought to have schools so complete in themselves that farm children should not be obliged to go to town to complete their education, since this generally means a weaning away from the farm. The time when the school was established was a period of panic, of low prices, and mortgaged farms and chattels. Still out of their poverty and need, the settlers gave, every one, a little for the school. The local church helped to furnish teachers—the pastor and the pastor's wife who had been college teachers taking part in the work from the first. The pastor from a neighboring parish also devoted a part of his time to teaching. The school received assistance from the church, and in its turn lent aid to the church. In a short while, as smaller district schools were established, these came to be feeders for the Academy, which insisted on teaching the universal subjects in a very thoroughgoing manner.

From the school went out in a short time teachers for the entire country community and practical men of affairs in other lines. A school farm was added at a very early date. Here regular lessons in farm building construction, repairing, the use of machinery, tools, etc., were given. Indeed, general farming was co-ordinated with classroom practice in relating the education of the school to the life of the community. The work of the school was practical from the first, doing its utmost to answer the needs of the community. Its enrollment grew from a few students to 145 in a few years. As old buildings were outgrown, the students took an active part in building the new.

A school house life was developed and the teachers have done a great work as companions and leaders of the students by giving them individual help and encouragement. To this may be traced some of the really remarkable men who have gone out from this community. All the household cares and duties of the school are organized under the department of household economics so that the care of kitchen, dining room, laundry, and the living rooms is left largely to the women students under the direction of a competent matron.

One of the things of special appeal is this. The pastor who came to the community in the early days has remained throughout the years, preaching and teaching, building and farming. The Christian spirit of respect and reverence for work, for knowledge, and for duty is strong in the school and equally strong in the community. Here can be seen, then, a typical rural community—satisfied country homes, and a country school and a country church, each doing its share in helping the people to love the soil and make the most of themselves.

Inspired young men and women who have the real vision of country life needs many find opportunities in every part of our country to do the work that these pioneers have done so successfully in a poor western pioneer district.

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

By virtue of a judgment of the Lawrence Circuit Court at its August term 1913, in the case of Wm. Ritter & Co. against J. A. Beasley et al., the undersigned commissioner of said court will on Monday, the 16th day of December, 1913, being County Court day, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, or so much thereof as may be necessary, of the below described land to satisfy judgment in favor of said plaintiff for $379.11, with interest from February 12, 1910, and costs of said action.

Tract of land described as follows in Lawrence county, Ky., on left hand fork of Georges creek, beginning at Ed Boyd's fence on county road, near Alice Border's home, thence with fence to top of point to white oak, thence northerly up the ridge to J. A. Beasley's line, thence to branch, thence with Mike Border's line to beginning, containing 30 acres. Sale will be made on a credit of six months, purchaser to execute bond with approved security. F. L. STEWART, M. C. L. C. C.

It is now being gossiped in political circles that when the next race for the Democratic nomination for Governor is made up, Justus Goebel, the well known Covington politician and brother of the late Gov. William Goebel, will be one of the entrants.

"All is Well That Ends Well"

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not hard work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip—bronchitis—consumption. Fortify the body now with

VIOLET.

HEADACHY, COSTIVE, BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, mean Liver and Bowels are clogged—

Cheer up!

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

YATESVILLE.

We have had quite a number of distinguished visitors during Thanksgiving week. Let's see! Mrs. G. B. Carter and son Clyde, of Princess were visiting aunt Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Elkins and sons, of Ashland were visiting the families of J. B. Carter and Buck Elkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Noll Laken, of East Liverpool, O., were visiting the family of Milt Carter. There has also been many other visitors to our section, too numerous to mention.

Our local mines are running full time and are yet unable to supply the demand for coal.

Our postmasters are all very glad that the weighing of the mail is over.

The oil business is on a boom. It is said that the well at William Savage's is the best by far of any well in the county. There is now a few hundred barrels of oil already tanked. All of the land that is available in the vicinity is leased.

CIRCULATION, OVER 4400.

Friday, December 5, 1913.

The open season for the "game" called football closed last week. Up to Saturday there had been 14 players killed and 175 injured this season, against 13 deaths and 183 injured last year. Only two university players were killed this season.

Washington, Dec. 1.—A new session of Congress, the second in President Wilson's administration, began work Monday at noon.

Vice President Marshall as the noon hour arrived declared the old session adjourned "without delay" and in the next breath announced that Congress had assembled "in accordance with the constitution."

More formally marked the opening in the House. A roll call disclosed a quorum, something the House has not had in many weeks.

Christmas gift givers this year will not be forced to lick their own stamps when they affix the proper postage to their parcels for mailing unless they wish to, for the Postoffice Department announced that its postmasters and their assistants would attend to that duty if requested. The innovation is put in force in the interest of better mail service during the holiday rush and is expected to facilitate the movement of the vast crush of matter that will tax the resource of the department's many employees.

Orders were issued to postmasters to affix postage when requested on mail matter of the second, third and fourth class, the latter being parcel post matter.

The stamps will be pre-cancelled and the plan is expected to prevent the great waste of time experienced by postoffice patrons, while waiting in line to buy postage and mail their packages.

THE PRISON COMMISSIONERS.

The Constitutional Amendment permitting the enactment of a law to work convicts on the public roads having been carried by the vote of the people at the November election, the Board of Prison Commissioners has gone to visit the prison camps located in some of the States where this system has been adopted. The Board, which consists of Dan O'Sullivan, of Louisville, Henry R. Lawrence, of Cadiz, and M. F. Conroy, of Louisa, will visit the camps in Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia and study the system from every possible point and obtain all the data at the command of the Board. Thus equipped the Commissioners will be able to furnish the Legislature with information which will enable the legislators to act understandingly when the necessary legislation is to be done.

WE GAVE THANKS.

Thanksgiving began in Louisa about noon on Thursday last, and in some places the end-of-the-turkey—was reached about noon on the following Monday. Family parties were numerous, and good cheer abounded. The church part of the day was held in the Christian church, and considering the most inclement weather the number attending the service was quite large. The programme published in this paper was duly and well observed. And speaking of the NEWS, that good sheet went to press on Wednesday, thus allowing the office force an opportunity for enjoying the Thanksgiving occasion in any way it saw fit. So far as the weather was concerned Old Probabilities spared neither labor nor expense, so to speak, to make it the worst ever seen. Nothing was omitted, underfoot, overhead and all around to make the day the most disagreeable possible. The rain poured, the mud was deep, and it was so dark that in many houses gas was burned all day long. It was hard to tell when the day began and when it ended.

But the people seemed thankful for the continued favor of the Almighty, and there is reason to believe that no one went hungry to bed because there was nothing to eat.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

PLEA FOR AN AMENDMENT.

An army of temperance soldiers, 1,000 strong, will march on the capital December 10 to present a plea for an amendment to the constitution for nationwide prohibition.

Afterwards the army will proceed down Pennsylvania avenue to the White House, where they expect to be received by President Wilson. That evening a mass meeting addressed by notable speakers will be held in Memorial Continental Hall.

The next day a council of war will be held, at which the council of 100 representing the leading purely organizations in America will take part.

Louisa will be represented in this army by the Rev. Olus Hamilton, pastor of the Baptist church and president of the Business Men's League of this city. At a recent meeting of the League it was voted to send Mr. Hamilton to represent Louisa, and he will leave for Washington on Monday next.

MAGOFFIN CASE REVERSED.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 28.—A verdict of $5,000 damages awarded in the Magoffin Circuit Court to Mary Dyer against the Singer Sewing Machine Company was reversed in an opinion by Chief Justice Hobson. Mary Dyer sued for alleged malicious prosecution. It was claimed she had defaulted in a payment on her machine, and the agent for the company secured an attachment in the County Court. When the Sheriff went to serve the attachment he could not find the machine. The agent consulted with the County Attorney and a warrant was sworn out for Mary Dyer, charging her with embezzlement. She was dismissed after her bond to produce the machine in County Court. She brought suit for damages.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Our S. S. will meet at 9:15 a. m. as usual. At the morning hour the pastor will preach the second of a series of Expository sermons on 1 Cor. Read this book in the Bible and then come out to the service. Our B. Y. P. U. meets at 5:45 p. m. and our President, C. F. See, Jr., always has something good for the young people.

At our usual Monday evening service at 8:30 we expect to observe "Tuberculosis Day" and the Pastor has secured the services of one who is skilled in the treatment of this disease, who will speak to us at this hour. We assure you something worth your while. Come and hear Dr. G. W. Wroten, at this hour on "Tuberculosis, its prevention and cure." OLUS HAMILTON, Pastor.

THE GAME.

The football team from Prestonsburg came down on Thursday last, and notwithstanding the fact that it rained nearly all day and the ground was almost a sea of mud, game was called about 2 p. m. There is a wide difference of opinion as to the standing of the teams when the play ended, some claiming that the score was a tie, others that it stood 6 to 0 in favor of Louisa. If the weather had been half way good a very large crowd would have witnessed the game and the result would probably have been different. More than eighty of the good people of Prestonsburg and many from other points up the river came to see the game. Prestonsburg had a special car.

T. G. May Dead in Oklahoma.

T. G. May, formerly of this section, died recently in Enid, Okla. The deceased was 66 years of age and was born in Saliersville. He was a prominent Mason and a life-long member of the Baptist church. His wife, before marriage, was Miss Amanda Conley. He has been in the west for a good many years, but he had scores of friends here who will regret to hear this news. He is survived by ten children who live in ten different states of the union and they will not be permitted to be present at the funeral services owing to the great distance.

HAS GONE SOUTH.

Huntington, Nov. 25.—After forfeiting a bond of $3,000 under which he was at liberty pending trial on a charge of arson, in criminal court, yesterday morning, when he failed to make an appearance, A. G. Blake, formerly a prominent business man of Huntington, was sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Georgia Bay Blake, in circuit court late yesterday.

Las' Wednesday morning laez, the little six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fraley, of Kellogg was fatally burned. The little girl and her brother were pouring oil into a small stove which contained fire. Suddenly the flames burst forth and ignited the girl's clothing.

Charles Town, Nov. 26.—E. Graham Wilson, whose trial for an alleged assault on Miss Kate Turner has filled the Jefferson county courthouse for more than a week, was today found guilty after the jury had spent the night debating the testimony. The jury recommended that Wilson be confined in the penitentiary, which saves him from hanging, as under the law the court has no alternative when a verdict of guilty is without the recommendation.

Miss Jettie Glickerson, aged about 20, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Glickerson of Kenova, ended her earthly existence last Sunday afternoon by taking carbolic acid. It is said that the girl had been in a despondent mood for several days, although no direct cause was given for her downheartedness.

CROUP AND COUGH REMEDY.
Croup is a terrible disease, it attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes I have severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you, 50c. and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all Druggists. H. E. BUCKLEN & Co. PHILA. ST. LOUIS.

Fighting with knives in a deadly duel over the affections of a girl, James Harris, 24, farmer, and Daniel Jesse, 23, also a farmer, almost cut each other to pieces Sunday about noon, at Cox, Ky., five miles east of Olive Hill. Jesse is expected to die at any time. A brother of Jesse, Logan Jesse, 19, was also cut during the fight. Daniel Jesse was almost disemboweled by Harris, it is claimed. The trouble occurred near the church grounds.

Hazard, Ky., Nov. 28.—An alarm of fire Thursday night stopped the argument of Senator Hogg, one of the half dozen attorneys in the case of the Commonwealth against Emma Eversole, who shot and killed her husband, Mac Eversole, former sheriff of Perry county, last September. The fire was discovered in the Combs' hotel and was extinguished with but slight damage. There was a large gathering of women to hear the arguments and the stampede with a probable loss of life was stopped by prompt action of Sheriff Horn and his deputies who held the crowd back long enough to give the people time to collect their wits and act with prudence. She was found guilty of manslaughter.

A representative of the Herald visited at Green Rock, at the end of the new Jeales creek railroad last week. The train on this new road makes two round trips daily from Green Rock to Dawkins, the connecting point with the C. and O. near Van Lear. The new road is 10 miles long, running up Jeales creek to the Green Rock timber section. At the end of this road there is enough timber already sawed to keep the train busy for one year hauling it out, hundreds of stacks of fine popular belag now ready for the market. The Dawkins Lumber Co., who operates this railroad and who own the timber, are also getting out railroad ties in large quantities.—Palatka Herald.

One of the largest coal operations in Eastern Kentucky is the Van Lear operation. This is one of the immense operations of the Consolidation Coal Company and is located on Millers creek, about three miles from Palatka. On this creek are located a number of coal mines, all of which are under the supervision of Mr. C. F. Ice, who has had good success since taking charge of the work there. A short time ago the company decided to extend its developments further up the creek and the railroad has been extended to the new mines which were opened. Near these new mines a new store has been opened for the benefit of the men who work there. The houses are well built and supplied with water and electric lights. The miners are well paid and the business moves along smoothly. Van Lear is an incorporated town and the best of order is maintained. A good police force and city officials are interested in the welfare of the town.

Schools and churches are two things in which this company is greatly interested and there are three schools on the creek. One of the schools in the center of the town has four teachers and the others are smaller schools. Churches of different denominations are located here, with good memberships.

John E. Buckingham was at Wayland, the new town that is being established on Beaver creek, in Floyd county, where he made arrangements for the opening of a new National bank with a capital stock of fifty thousand dollars.

The new town of Wayland is building up rapidly and the Elkhorn Fuel Company is rushing the new railroad up Beaver to completion. This town will have a population of five thousand in a very short while.

After the first of the year the road will be completed to the town from the mouth of the creek, a distance of 21 miles.—Palatka Herald.

CLEANSER YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL.

It becomes thick, wavy, lustrous and all dandruff disappears—Hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil. In a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, lustrous and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties causes the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

FROM TEXAS.

Perhaps a few words about some of the peculiarities of some of the insects and vermin of Texas will not be amiss to some of the readers of the NEWS.

Of all the ants in the world I presume the "mound builders" are the most notable. They are a medium large red or amber colored ant. They exist in large colonies and burrow in the ground and build mounds sometimes as large as an old fashioned potato hole. They subsist mostly on vegetation devouring some times a rod square around their mounds. They will occupy a mound for many years. I think old colonies may send off new ones on the order of bees. The colonies have their trails and seems to hold communication with neighboring colonies for quite a distance. They will sometimes burrow in the middle of a public road, but of course the travel keeps their mounds down. They are very burrless, except they must have about one rod of cotton or corn, etc. for their part.

There are here the tarantulas spiders. They are large vicious and poisonous spiders. They are covered with a very short brown coat of fine fur. Also the poisonous centipede.

The angle or earth worms are some times as large as a Kentucky ground snake. The toads are scarce, but of immense size. Also the horny lizards are common, but harmless. There are many varieties of snakes. The copper heads are the most dreaded in any part, while the rattlers are common in other parts.

I forgot to speak of the common house flies or muscades and the mosquitoes. The day never gets too light for the one, nor the night too dark for the other. Most all citizens keeps their doors and windows well screened against them.

This is now the 23rd of November and vegetation looks brown and dead except small grain and alfalfa, etc. No snow yet.

Of small animals and birds there is a good variety. Three kinds of rabbits, the common cotton tail, the swamp, which is nearly as large as the Jack rabbit, and has the general appearance of the cotton tail except in size. The Jacks are light gray, with black tipped ears and tail.

Then we have the possum, skunk, violet cat, mink and fox squirrel. The most beautiful and cute or all the small animals is the Texas ground squirrel. It is rather a light gray or rather briadle, with white narrow stripes. It will sit upright on its hind hunkers and is not very wild. It will make lovely pet, and don't look like the ground squirrels of the east, except in size. There are the coyotes, and the wolves, etc. in some parts of Texas.

Of the birds we find many common to the east such as the turtle dove, sparrow, black birds, crows, hawks, field larks, etc. Will say that the turtle dove is more plentiful and common here. They are even seen in flocks and it is very common to find their nests in the fields on the ground, with two little white eggs. There are kinds I don't know. There is the scissor tail some time called the cleave tail which spreads its long tail when flying. Also the long tail when flylag. Also the plover gives us a call on its long tour, "said to be around the world" once or twice a year.

We also have the Texas whippoorwill and mocking birds, which are so peculiar from those of Kentucky that a stranger to them could not identify if he should hear them holler after dark.

Of domestic fowls there are most all kind of chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys, pigeons, etc. With proper care chickens will go through the winter without any damage to their combs by frost. Poultry shows are very common and gives large rewards to the best exhibits among competitors. A. P. SALTER.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If tongue is coated or if cross, feverish, constipated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Co." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Special Election in Greenup County.

The special election in Greenup county necessitated by the death of Representative-let James A. Scott, will be held December 20th, and all three factions in Greenup county are grooming their men for the race that is bound to result.

Judge Sutton, of Russell, will be a candidate, as he was defeated by only a hundred votes by Scott a few weeks ago.

When children grow up and get married they frequently neglect to keep in touch with the old folks. The telephone provides the means of keeping within the family circle. It is indeed pleasant to hear the voice of our loved ones over the wire.

When telephone service is so reasonable in price, there is no excuse for not enjoying it.

Miss Tillie Young—"Oh, look at my hands! They're all cracking open and they're so sore. I do hate this old washing—steaming the house up and tiring everybody out!"

Anty Drudge—"Well, I don't know what you use to make your hands in that condition, but I know you don't use Fels-Naptha Soap. After this, take my advice, and do all your work with Fels-Naptha."

Ordinary soaps waste time and strength. Fels-Naptha Soap saves both, and keeps you cool in mind and body.

Fels-Naptha washes clothes better and more easily than any other soap or washing powder; it works best in cool or lukewarm water, and does away with hard rubbing or boiling. It does all kinds of work as well and easily as it does the weekly washing.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO THIRTEEN MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Our Girls.

There are just two things that I keep the girls straight at the age when they begin to think of longer dresses, and bonnets. One is plain clothes and the other is home duties. The girls we see making fools of themselves are almost invariably over-dressed. They wear duds that women of thirty should hesitate about wearing.

A little girl with too many and too costly clothes on her back gets self-conscious and vain and loves admiration—and you grown-ups know the next step. A simple, pure-hearted girl who has a place in a home, home work and home duties, has her heart there, and no boy can steal it. Even when maturity comes, and a real man comes, and a real affair of her heart comes, will such a girl leave home, and then only after a heart rendering. But a girl who is at home only at the table and late bed time won't love that home. Work makes things sacred. The child whose home memories are not hallowed by work, who is not needed, and does not feel the need, will not love home. And if she does not love as other. She will go anywhere for anything. Home will mean nothing to such a woman, and if she is respectable, she will only lack the opportunity to be a bad woman, and is good only through circumstances or by the necessity of an ugly face. She will curse any man she marries.

The mothers of this town who are responsible for the girls who gad on the streets should stop and think what they are doing. These girls are no longer children. They are at an impressible age. Where will you have their impressions come from—from the riff-raff of the streets, or from home? It is for the mothers of this town to settle the question.

Woman.

Woman, wherever found, is the same kind, civil, obliging, tender, being inclined to be gay and cheerful but timorous and modest.

There is in every woman's heart a spark of heavenly fire which beams, and blazes in the hours of adversity, and men can be great when great occasions call. In little duties women fill their sphere, narrow as it is, and cluster round the breath.

She is the beautiful mosaic arch in the common home; the every day home where men entertain angels unawares and where she smooths to placid peace the rough and rugged places in the highways of existence. If taken in the abstract, woman is superior to man in this, i. e. that pain and anguish, grief and sorrow, affliction and poverty, are but stepping stones on which she climbs above the narrow sphere which he calls life and "she it is who is last at the cross and earliest at the grave." While her heart is loyal to home, love and duty, her head often gets light as air and by reason of conflicting circumstances she is easily influenced and led astray.

Fashion, that invidious siren, is one of the chief tempters and but very few women can resist her artless caprices.

"This said that Satan employed Fashion to assist him in the downfall of the human race and perhaps the aphorism is correct for this earthly idol is worshipped in many homes, and if the love of money is the root of all evil, the love of dress is the main trunk of the tree of extravagance which is too often wrecked in the tempest of bankruptcy."

A loving, good mother is a treasure above all others of an earthly nature, as she never feels any sacrifice too great, any anguish too keen, any shame so dreadful, any fate so overwhelming, as to transcend the endurance or crush the power of a mother's love. Mrs. Wilson says and truly she spoke, that "under an invincible inspiration, when danger threatens her darlings, she knows no self disgrace, death frights her not, she extends her arm to arrest every approach, offers her own breast as a shield against darts, bullets, sword thrusts, and counts it a privilege to lay down her life in defense of those loved ones." O, loyalty, supreme, sublime, immortal! Thy name is mother's love. Her very existence is interwoven with her children, their counselor, comforter and guide; therefore we should highly prize and sacredly cherish that valuable jewel, a good mother. This world is so dreary when we are bereft of mother, yet so few appreciate her as we should, for what is home without a mother?

Look over your list of friends and acquaintances and note their course. Did you not find on examination that those who today are men of influence and honor, were the youths who made the most of their valuable time, turning it to good account? And on the other hand do you not find those who stood at the corners with a cigar or pipe in their mouths, went from bad to worse, from worse to ruin?

The mother who allows the blues and sulks to overshadow the home, who allows herself to be moody and discontented, falls in a chief duty and places a handicap on her husband and children in the race of life.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH.

Time to—"Pape's Diapiesin" makes your upset, bloated stomach feel fine in five minutes.

"Really does" put had stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

When we have prohibition laws we should have them. We can see no excuse for permitting "boozing" to be shipped into prohibition territory in gallon lots or any other quantity.

The foregoing from the Cadiz Record has the hearty endorsement of the Big Sandy News.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardul, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardul is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardul today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

WARDEN WELLS.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 7th, 1913. The Big Sandy News, Louisa, Ky.

Gentlemen:—

I have received letters from many of my friends in the Big Sandy Valley asking about our new Warden, Judge A. J. G. Wells, of Murray, Ky., and whether or not he is making any progress in his management of our State Reformatory here, and I do not know of any better way to answer them all than through the columns of your splendid paper, if you will be so kind as to publish my letter.

Judge Wells taught school many years, and practiced law a long time and as a judge on the bench he came into close contact with men of all classes, the best, the indifferent, and the worst, so that when he was placed in charge of this institution he was ripe for the work and made a success of it from the start.

He is the first man to have the honor and distinction of managing this institution without the use of corporal punishment, and has so completely won the admiration and respect of the prisoners that they actually do 25 per cent. more and better work to please him than they did when they stood in fear of those terrible floggings for short task and bad work.

Judge Wells has a great school here which begins at 6 p. m. each night and lasts until 8 p. m. about 600 men are enrolled, and all of them are faithful in attendance, and are learning very rapidly. It is all voluntary on the part of both scholars and teachers, and the best of spirit prevails. Warden Wells is doing such a great work in this respect that all the people of the State should know and appreciate it.

He has remodeled the chapel, which now seats all the men in the prison, and it is a great sight to see 1400 in one congregation. After religious exercises 30 minutes are devoted to music by the various bands of the institution, including several very fine quartettes, and humorous speeches and recitations by the prisoners. Then Warden Wells speaks for 30 minutes of topics of the greatest interest, and this "Warden's Forum," as it is called, has the greatest influence for good on the prisoners, and is always attended by many visitors from out in the city.

The Prison Commissioners certainly made a happy choice when they selected Judge Wells as Warden of this great institution, and Kentucky has an official in him of which she may always be proud. Wishing continued prosperity for the NEWS, I am

Most respectfully yours,
Cnpt. J. W. CLINE, Guard.

OHIO FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

In the rich fertile Scioto river valley and its tributaries there has been much said about this country producing. I want to say we would not have any use for cars to load nor any elevators to fill if the land would not produce. Land has been selling so marvelously low that the people have much doubt. I want to further say this country is able to feed and take care of itself and help others. As hard as the drouth has been. Don't take anybody's word if you are interested, come and look. This should appeal to every man that is interested in his welfare and his family, where there are many opportunities too numerous to mention. For further information address,

Here's A Good Resolution:

"I Will Begin My Christmas Shopping Today!"

"It's better for me because I have the first pick of all the handsome things, and salespeople who have time to give me their whole attention."

"Besides, I can choose APPROPRIATE gifts instead of rushing madly around at the eleventh hour, buying that 'SOMETHING to give' without regard to its usefulness or price."

"Again, it's better for the stores, for it helps them to give that better and accurate service they want to give, and lessens the strain on their faithful, busy workers."

Why Not Make This Resolution and Begin Acting on it IMMEDIATELY?

Northcott-Tate-Hagy Co. will meet you more than half way. It is brimming over with Christmas; everywhere are evidences of unusual preparation to make this an ideal Christmas store.

Stocks of conveniently displayed merchandise; brilliantly lighted, commodious aisles; courteous, helpful service; prices that are in strict accord with quality; early and safe delivery of goods bought; all of these, together with an organization that is keyed up to its highest pitch of efficiency, are some of the many inducements offered to Christmas Shoppers. Make up your mind to shop—

PIKE COUNTY NEWS

AMBUSH CASE SET FOR MONDAY.

The trial of Dave Hall and negro Tom Riddle, who are jointly accused of having shot from ambush and killed revenue officers Stone and Ramsey and badly wounded Mart Potter, is set to begin before the federal court at Catlettsburg next Monday.

There was at first a question of jurisdiction, the Halls and Riddle claiming that the shooting occurred on the Virginia side of the line in the Cumberland mountains, and that for this reason the federal authorities of Virginia. The crime was committed in what is called the Eulehead Notch of the Cumberland mountains, just on the line between Kentucky and Virginia, twenty-five miles south of Pikeville on the 4th of last May. Upon this plea for a change of venue the government made arrangements to have a party of engineers locate the exact line for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction. It is said the two accused men withdrew their objection, and the case will now be tried before the federal court at Catlettsburg.

JUDGE STALLARD'S SISTER DIES.

Last Saturday morning county Judge H. H. Stallard received a telegram announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Lina Buchanan, at Coeburn, Va. The Judge left by the afternoon train via Elkhorn City for Coeburn to attend the funeral and interment, which took place there Monday, and returned to his home here Tuesday.

Mrs. Buchanan died from grief over the loss of her son, who had died only a few weeks prior to her own death.

PNEUMONIA.

Pneumonia has been generally prevalent throughout the valley during the past 2 months; while the death rate has been low as not to be at all alarming, the general spread of it has been so effective in producing a number of cases that considerable anxiety has been expressed among the physicians and health officers.

Emmett Poole, whose case is one of the late developments, became unconscious last week. His case is yet very serious.

Other cases are improving.

NOW COMING

TO METROPOLIS.

The Business Men's Association of Pikeville has at last succeeded in getting the C. and O. to run its passenger trains (or the morning train, which arrives at 11:25) to Shelby, and there connect with the B. and O. trains for Jenkins, then return to Ashland leaving Shelby at 3:20 p. m., and Pikeville at 3:45. This enables the citizens of Jenkins, Prestonsburg and Paintsville to do their banking and shopping business at Pikeville and return home to their loved ones by the same train by giving them 4 hours and 25 minutes stop-over in Pikeville.

The first train arrived according to the new schedule Monday, and it brought many citizens to Pikeville from our neighboring cities, and each returned to their friends at home much pleased with the metropolis of the valley. Pikeville welcomes them whenever it is their pleasure to call.

DIES MONTHS AFTER INJURIES.

Three months after receiving injuries in a hand-car accident at Yeager, Ky., John Damron, 28, died at the mouth of Shelby creek last week.

At the time he received the fatal injuries, he and a party of men were coming down the creek on a hand-car, which left the track and threw Damron over a high embankment. His injuries were thought to have been fatal.

OFFICERS SWORN IN.

The new city officers, consisting of the Mayor, D. T. Keel, and councilmen, were sworn in Monday. The councilmen are: Lank Williams, Willie Yost, Thos. Perry, G. W. M. Hackney, Richard Thompson and Morell Morris.

Council was in regular session Monday night.

MR. HATCHER ENTERTAINS.

The luncheon party given by Mr. James Hatcher at the Pike hotel last Thursday was the largest of its kind, and doubtless the most costly ever given at Pikeville.

About seventy-five guests were present out of 150 invited, the remainder being kept at home only by the fact that they had themselves arranged to entertain friends; and none present were under the required age of fifty years, and one of the distinguished guests present was Mr. John W. Langlois.

At the luncheon Mr. Hatcher, being a lover of a practical joke, apprised Mr. Langlois that the latter had eaten of the Thanksgiving turkey which he, Mr. Langlois, had lost and offered a reward for several days previously.

Those gentlemen are still friends and the episode of the missing Thanksgiving turkey will not stir up a feud between them.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Howard Burpo and Frank Engler, of Jenkins were both here last Saturday.

Everett Sowards made a brief business call to Prestonsburg Saturday morning.

O. H. Stumbo, Sheriff-elect of Floyd-co., spent several days of the latter part of last week here.

W. L. Barnard, L. D. Polley and G. B. Loug, of Elkhorn City, were here on business last Friday.

Commonwealth Attorney W. H. May, of Prestonsburg, who has been down and near death with pneumonia for several weeks, was removed to a hospital at Louisville last week, where he underwent an operation for bone tuberculosis Saturday and a part of the jaw bone on the right side was removed. His case is yet a serious one.

J. C. McDonald and T. W. Connolly, of Ashland were here for several days last week.

Dr. Roht, Burchett, of Paintsville was a professional caller here Saturday.

Dennis Gleason, former machine operator at the Royal theater, left last Monday at noon for Huntington. Mr. Gleason may not return.

SOCIETY.

Ralph Chatfield, of Ashland has been the guest of his brother, O. P. Chatfield, and family for several days.

Miss Vergie Keel, of Coal Run was the guest of Miss Anna Kinney at her home on Main-st. for a few days this week and last.

A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of T. F. Radloff, the druggist, last Friday morning at 5 o'clock, when in the presence of only a few friends Miss Alpha, the pretty 18-year-old daughter of William Childress, of Look Out, was married to Mr. Dock Bartley. The civil instead of the ecclesiastical ceremony was used, county judge H. H. Stallard officiating. The bride left on the morning train for Niagara and other eastern cities.

Miss Alma Coleman, of Reginu was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jere Robinson for a few days during the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bentley, of Wise, Va., are here for a few days as the guests of Dr. J. W. Vicars and family. Mrs. Bentley was formerly Miss Ethel Vicars, niece of the doctor.

LETCHER COUNTY.

WHITESBURG, KY., Dec. 2.—The Letcher Fiscal court met in a special session here on Friday and transacted some very important and interesting matters regarding the roads of the county, looking to the building and improvements of roads, in general. Some special matters regarding the tangle that occurred a few days ago in the building of the model roadway from Mayking to Kona, 6 miles construction of which was started some three weeks ago. All the trouble has, however, been nipped and hereafter the hands will be paid promptly. Mr. C. B. Donaghy is superintending the work. County Judge John D. Fitzpatrick was appointed a Commissioner to oversee the building of the road and paying of the laborers.

George C. Brown, aged 21, son of John C. Brown, a Dry Fork farmer and good citizen of the county, died after a long illness of a complication of diseases. Pneumonia is said to have developed.

He was a brother to W. E. Brown Deputy Circuit Clerk, and has many friends throughout the county, all of whom deeply mourn his death. Interment took place in the family graveyard on Dry Fork.

Cashier W. H. Courtney, of the First National Bank of Whitesburg is expected home from Lexington within a few days with his bride, who was Miss Upington, a society girl of the Queen City. They will make Whitesburg their home. During his honeymoon Mr. Lytton, of Jackson is employed in the bank.

Robert B. Franklin, of Colly, is pushing his claims before John W. Hughes, Collector, Danville, for the position of Deputy Collector in the Sixth District composed of the counties of Letcher, Pike, Knott, Perry and Leslie. Franklin has a large following and will no doubt win. Owing to the great amount of lawlessness caused by the manufacture and sale of moonshine throughout Letcher county, owing to the big foreign population it is hoped the Deputy Collector's place will be retained in this county.

WHITESBURG, KY., Dec. 2.—There is still more or less excitement in the county over the prevalence and spread of small pox, and, owing to the inefficiency of the county officials there is likely to be a general spread of the disease. In many instances people have been allowed to travel about while sick and come in contact with many people, thereby giving an opportunity to cause its spread. We hope the county officials will now call a halt.

The West Virginia State & Lumber Co. is running a good sized stave operation on the headwater of Colly above here in this county. It is expected the work will require at least two years to complete it. Owing to the extensive lumber and staves coming out from the Colly section a strong effort is being made to get a siding and regular depot at Mouth of Colly on the L. and E. A large number of passengers would also get on and off there.

Starbuck and Baxter, the railroad grade contractors on the two mile branch of the L. and E. up Pottery Fork to reach the new city of Haymond being constructed by The Mineral Fuel Co., are rushing with all possible haste. Steam shovels, etc. in fact every kind of improved modern machinery is being added to the work. Several hundred hands, mostly colored laborers, are at work.

Mrs. Minnie Venters is a guest of her father and many relatives at Hyden, where she spent Thanksgiving.

Jailer Hall, John Hale, Sam Collins and others returned from attending S. Court at London.

E. L. Fant, of Anderson, S. C. interested in the great development work in this county, has been in Whitesburg for a few days.

Ex-Judge J. P. Lewis was a hazardous business visitor a few days ago.

W. M. Crawford, holding a responsible position with the Consolidation Coal Co. in Jenkins, went down the line to Jackson the past week on business.

Police Judge John W. Collins was a Jenkins business visitor to the county seat yesterday.

Lewis Bros., Frazier and Hogg have started work on six or seven residences in the bustling little city of Neon, which they are to rent.

They have also some desirable residence and business lots upon the market.

Attorney John J. Wakefield and R. B. Franklin returned from a business trip up the state.

U. S. Marshal Tom Hollifield, of Hindman, was a business visitor in Whitesburg.

FLOYD COUNTY.

Ollie Harris, of Woods was in town Wednesday.

Curtis May, Earl Stumbo, Seltz Clark, George Bohle, Bill May and Mr. Cunningham went to Ashland Thursday.

The large crowd of enthusiastic rooters which accompanied the Prestonsburg "Mountaineers" to Louisa Thanksgiving to witness the championship game of the valley were not disappointed.

The game was thrilling from start to finish. Both the old and new style of foot ball being used. On account of the muddy condition of the field, the fast Mountaineers were not able to get their far famed steam and they were penalized frequently.

The game ended in the prettiest piece of foot ball imaginable. Near the end of the last quarter Louisa by a successful forward pass came within striking distance of the goal and there a fierce struggle took place. Time was called and the game ended 0 to 0.

We are not going to indulge in knocking and will say that the weather had to do with several of the referee's decisions, which were certainly in accordance thereof.

Coach Wells is certainly to be complimented on the team he has turned out. For they have just

Changeable Climate

IS A CONSTANT THREAT TO THE HEALTH OF THE PEOPLE.

Dr. Hartman, of Columbus, Ohio, discusses an important health topic. He says:

Yes, it is the climate, not the germs, that we have to fear in this country. The germs are present, to be sure, and are of some significance in diagnosis. Climate, a changeable climate, is the true cause of disease. The atmospheric pressure varies; the humidity of the atmosphere changes. Every day the temperature rises and falls. All this presents to the body very great trials to adjust to.

The area of high pressure forms in the northwest. Moves rapidly south-east, subjecting millions of our population to its influence. The result is, thousands upon thousands of people catch cold. A small per cent. of these thousands do not get well of their cold. It goes into pneumonia, or chronic catarrh, or bronchitis, or laryngitis, or pleurisy.

Now, what I am getting at is this. These climatic changes are inevitable. No one can prevent them. The very best we can do is to prepare for them, defend ourselves against them!

Good health is the best preventive. The very best. Vigorous health, with excess vitality, this is Nature's own preventive and protection.

We do not all have this, however. Some of us must have assistance. The assistance that I use for myself, would recommend for my friends to use, my neighbors and my countrymen, is Pe-ru-na. Keep Pe-ru-na in the house.

If the children indicate they are catching cold, give them Pe-ru-na.

If the parents, the grandfather or grandmother, present those symptoms that are so well known which precede a cold, a few doses of Pe-ru-na and the deed is done.

Some people are very subject to colds. Others who have weak lungs and are timid about our winter weather, take Pe-ru-na off and on during the whole winter season. The plan is a good one. The medicine is inexpensive. It does no possible harm to the system. It keeps the appetite regular and keen. It assists digestion and helps the user through the inclement weather of winter.

claims on the "championship" of the Big Sandy and stand ready to defend their claims against any team in Eastern Ky.

The "Mountaineers" certainly play clean, hard foot ball. They are proud of their town and people who in turn should be proud of them. You will always find the boys there when it comes to clean athletics.

G. W. Vance, who took his wife to the Louisa hospital Sunday, has returned home.

Joe Burke, Bill Gwathmey and Mr. Hunter were in town Sunday calling on friends.

Teddy, the little son of Lee Roberts, is very ill of whooping cough and pneumonia.
